

UPDATED MOANA SCHEDULE.

As we approach the final two weeks of rehearsals for MOANA, there are still some key aspects that require our attention. It is important to emphasize that any delays are not a reflection of anyone's efforts. Each individual has dedicated immense time and effort to this production. The constraints we face are simply a result of limited venue availability at certain times, which has restricted our flexibility and time to address all necessary tasks.

Please refer to the updated rehearsal schedule provided to ensure we are fully prepared for our time at the New Mills Art theatre and to minimise any further complications. (Apologies to anyone who missed the memo about rehearsals on Monday, unfortunately our emailing service was down)

Any problems please let me know. hannah@nktheatrearts.org.uk
